This is our school's Privacy Notice which is intended to provide you with information about how and why we process pupil information. The GDPR is a piece of legislation which contains the key laws relating to data protection.

It is important to the school, and a legal requirement, that we are transparent about how we process pupil information. Why is it lawful to collect this pupil information?

As a school, we are subject to a wide range of laws which we must comply with to further pupil education and to safeguard their well-being. To comply with these laws, it is necessary to collect pupil information as described in this Privacy Notice. Under the GDPR, it is lawful for the school to collect pupil information, as far as is necessary, to comply with the laws which we are subject to (Article 6(1)(c) of the GDPR).

Whilst the majority of pupil information you provide to us is mandatory, some of it is provided to us on a voluntary basis. In order to comply with the GDPR, we will inform you whether you are required to provide certain pupil information to us or if you have a choice. If you have a choice, then we will obtain your consent first (Article 6(1)(a) of the GDPR). Even if you consent to us collecting and using this information, you have a right to withdraw consent at any time. It maybe that we hold some emergency information, which is lawful as it is done so in the vital interests of our pupils (Article 6(1)(d)).

Some types of pupil information are regarded as more sensitive under the GDPR and referred to as being a 'special category' of personal information. If we intend to collect and use this information, we will inform you first, and comply with the requirements of the GDPR, and our own policies, to ensure that what we do is lawful. Usually we will obtain your explicit consent (Article 9(2)(a) of the GDPR).

Why we share pupil information

We do not share information about our pupils with anyone without consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so.

We share pupils' data with the Department for Education (DfE) on a statutory basis. This data sharing underpins school funding and educational attainment policy and monitoring.

We are required to share information about our pupils with our local authority (LA) and the Department for Education (DfE) under section 3 of The Education (Information About Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013.

Data collection requirements:

To find out more about the data collection requirements placed on us by the Department for Education (for example; via the school census) go to <https://www.gov.uk/education/data-collection-and-censuses-for-schools>.

National Pupil Database (NPD)

The NPD is owned and managed by the Department for Education and contains information about pupils in schools in England. It provides invaluable evidence on educational performance to inform independent research, as well as studies commissioned by the Department. It is held in electronic format for statistical purposes. This information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and awarding bodies.

We are required by law, to provide information about our pupils to the DfE as part of statutory data collections such as the school census and early years' census. Some of this information is then stored in the NPD. The law that allows this is the Education (Information About Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013.

To find out more about the NPD, go to <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/national-pupil-database-user-guide-and-supporting-information>.

The department may share information about our pupils from the NPD with third parties who promote the education or well-being of children in England by:

- conducting research or analysis
- producing statistics
- providing information, advice or guidance

The Department has robust processes in place to ensure the confidentiality of our data is maintained and there are stringent controls in place regarding access and use of the data. Decisions on whether DfE releases data to third parties are subject to a strict approval process and based on a detailed assessment of:

- who is requesting the data
- the purpose for which it is required
- the level and sensitivity of data requested: and
- the arrangements in place to store and handle the data

To be granted access to pupil information, organisations must comply with strict terms and conditions covering the confidentiality and handling of the data, security arrangements and retention and use of the data.

How long will we hold pupil information for?

We will hold pupil information for a period of time specified by law and as detailed within our retention policy. The length of time will depend on the nature of the information held. Generally, pupil educational records will be held for time that the pupil is registered at the school and then passed on to the pupil's next school. For more information, please contact the DPO.
