The school ethos values all pupils and their diverse abilities are equally celebrated.

Bridstow School is a fully inclusive school who ensures that all pupils achieve their potential personally, socially, emotionally and academically in all areas of the curriculum (regardless of their gender, ethnicity, social background, religion, sexual identity, physical ability or educational needs). This document is intended to give you information regarding the ways in which we ensure we support all of our pupils, including those with SEND, in order that they can realise their full potential. It may not list every skill, resource and technique we employ in order to achieve this as these are continually developed and used to modify our provision to meet the changing requirements for individual pupils.

A child or young person has SEND if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for them. A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty or disability if they: (a) have a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age; or (b) have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of educational facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions.

Once this occurs, we develop specific needs-based plans which help support their development and accelerate progress.

For children with complex SEND, the frequency of such provision may result in the school applying for additional funding to support a child, through High Level Needs Funding, known as the Top Up funding panel.

Other useful documents, such as our SEND and Inclusion Policy which gives more details on how children are identified, and our Accessibility Plan, are available on the school website.

Please contact Dan Brearey or Rossanna Griffith at Bridstow School if you need any further information.
